GUESS HOW MUCH THE BABY WEIGHS.

Guess how much the baby weighs?

Happy and free, looking like me.

It is only three months old to-day,

Happy as we can be.

I hold it close in my embrace,

And I can see it mother's face;

I see its little rosy cheek,

It smiles as if it tried to speak.

Guess how much the baby weighs?

Happy and free, looking like me,

It is only three months old to-day,

Happy as we can be.

Guess how much the baby weighs;

Jolly and gay, looking like me,

With its dimpled chin, and eyes of gray,

And brighter than the day.

See its little upturned nose,

And watch it play with its little toes,

Lift its chubby hands so fair,

Head adorned with curly hair.

Guess how much the baby weighs?

Happy and free, looking like me,

It is only three months old to-day,

Happy as we can be.
